

SHARP ATTACK ON STORROW'S BUSINESS METHODS

Fitzgerald Says He and Rich Associates Are Conspicuous Offenders in Milking the Public and Stock Watering.

Declares in Speech to the Jefferson Club He Will Show Up Ways in Which Fortunes Have Been Made.

STORROW spoke the other evening of the necessity of pure water and milk. Sometime before this campaign is over I will tell about how Mr. Storrow and some of his wealthy associates "milk" the public by the "watering" of stocks. "Watering stock" and "milking the public" are familiar terms on State street. It has been by this method that a great portion of the large fortunes in this country have been made, and Mr. Storrow is a conspicuous offender.

Fitzgerald Mayor John F. Fitzgerald made the above sensational statement last night. The "watering" charges were made by Fitzgerald in the closing sentences of his speech before the Jefferson Club of Ward 4, where Mr. Fitzgerald is a member of the club.

At the time Fitzgerald, speaking of the Boston city debt, quoted debt and assets of the city of the largest cities in the country to prove that Boston showed a value of over $140 to every man, woman and child in the city over what each one owed. This, he said, was the best showing of any city in the world.

Hopeful For Boston.
There were 200 men present at the club headquarters at the corner of Charter and Hanover streets when Fitzgerald arrived. Mr. Frank P. Ryan, president, the credit date was greeted with cheers.

BRAVE DRIVER HURLED TO DEATH RESPONDING TO FALSE FIRE ALARM

East Boston Family Learns of Tragedy While Waiting Supper for Fireman.

IN A modest cottage on No. 41 Ashland street, East Boston, a little woman and her thirteen-year-old daughter waited last night to get "father's supper ready." His "place" at the table was laid and his chair drawn up. Then mother and daughter sat down to await him. They were waiting late that morning, but their wait was in vain.

Coal Cart as Ambulance.
Thomas A. Clark, coach, unlighted street last night in East Boston, Akery's locomotive, driving in place of the engine's regular driver, urged his fleet, strong horses on an alarm which had been sounded from box 622 of Lowell and Tremont streets.

Skull and Bones Gets Mummy King
Great Mystery Cleared at Yale
Preserved Egyptian Is for Frat Initiations.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 11.—The mysterious mummy which Harold Strokes shipped from Egypt a month ago arrived at Yale today. It was received by his brother, Rev. James P. Strokes, dean of Yale University, who gave out the information that the relic is not for the eyes of the world.

FITZGERALD CASH READY.
Big Bill Kellier Hates to Show Up with Storrow Wagers.
Fitzgerald supporters crowded the readers of Young's yesterday, waiting to hear the end of Storrow money which "Big Bill" Kellier was expected to produce. He bet $1,000 at even money on the C. M. L. nominee and was required to have $1,000 more, which was to have been put in yesterday. Edward K. Clark and others waited two hours, but Kellier failed to materialize and they left the hotel disappointed.

TAFT AND SHERMAN FIGHTING IN NICAAGUA

ROASTED WELL BY GRIDIRON CLUB

"We Love Roosevelt, But Oh, You Taft," Refrain Heard at Rollicking Dinner.

SHERMAN IS "SUNNY JIM"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—President Taft paid his first visit as President to the Gridiron Club tonight table d'hôte and enjoyed heartily the jovial spirit of the occasion. He was the subject of jokes and skits along with many other notable and he smiled broadly when everybody arose and sang:

"We love, we love, we love Roosevelt, But, Oh, you Taft!"

"Bunny Jim" Sherman.
Statenmen, parlor, office-holders, office-men, even a President of the United States and a Vice-President—all affixed their voices in song—and the famous Gridiron Club's annual Fall dinner was in full swing.

SCANDAL IN KING'S SET SHOWN BY AD
Edward Forbade Viscountess Churchill a Divorce, so She Went in Hiding.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—King Edward hates above all things that any one of the royal household should be in a position to be involved in a scandal, particularly in a divorce suit. An earnest attempt to please his majesty in this respect made by Viscountess Churchill has resulted in a scandal far louder than any suit for divorce could have caused.

How Pole Was Found.
"E. J. Hellebrand told me I did," was the reply.
"How did he know?"
"He said he did," he described the circumstances of the discovery.

ALICE NIELSEN ILL, OPERA BILL CRIPPLED
American Prima Donna, Announced to Sing This Week, Suffering From Overwork.

ALICE NIELSEN is announced to sing three times during the coming week at the Boston Opera House, but she lies seriously ill at her home, No. 128 Haverhill street, under the care of two physicians. Tomorrow night she was to have appeared in "Madame Butterfly," but the management was obliged to announce last night that the opera will be taken off and "Lohengrin" with Leda Lippert, in the principal role, will be substituted.

THIEF ROBS POOR BOX.
While a prayer service was being held in St. Catherine's Church, Summer street, last night, a man in a dark coat and hat entered the church and stole a box from the poor box in the vestibule and fled with about $20.

HIGH COST OF LIVING DRIVES UP RESTAURANT PRICES, AND THE PATRONS PAY THE BILLS

HAVE you noticed the enormous cost of the various things in restaurants? You have, and you know it. But you don't know how much more expensive they are than they were a few months ago.

One man who knows his business and rarely pays less than $1.00 for a dinner at a restaurant, says that the matter of restaurant prices is not a new thing. It has been a long time coming, but it is now here. He says that the prices of the various things in restaurants are now so high that a man who used to pay $1.00 for a dinner now has to pay $1.50 or $2.00. MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.
N. Y., Dec. 11.—Walter Rudd, the sturdy plowboy from Germany, and his partner, Jackie Clark, from fantasy Australia, had the honor of winning the seventeenth annual six-day bicycle race tonight in Madison Square Garden. The winning team covered 2,660 miles and 1 lap, which is seventy-seven miles less than the record made by McFarland and Moran a year ago. The winning combination clinched first money and all the prizes that go with a six-day race when they stole the one lap that beat their rivals this morning at 1:30.

For the winning streak of the night, the duo won the race. The race was a great one. The Canadian style of football is a new and exciting one. It is expected to be a great success.

Trud Spent After Sprint.

There'll Be No Recall

THE STATE has a score of many voters in Boston who believe that it will be possible to recall the next Mayor of Boston after two years in office. They are wrong. The law does not allow it. Wake up. Read the new charter earlier and you'll find that the sum of the law is that the people have no right of bringing about another mayoralty election through recall. The law is plain and simple and being carried out. There'll be no recall.

Editorial and Literary Section

FROM the pictures of the Egyptians we can gain a tolerable idea of what our early ancestors were like.

Give careful attention to these or any other pictures of the first products of civilization, and you will notice that the most prominent human characteristic is VANITY.

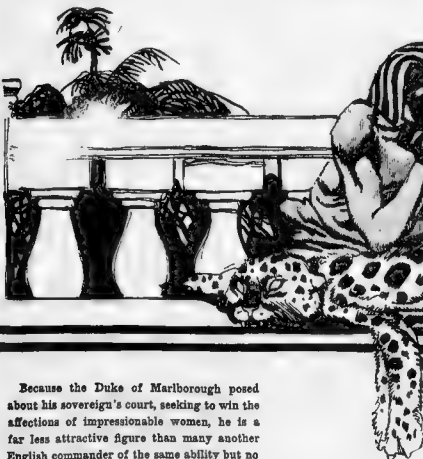

And so, too, with the savages.

A Zulu chief who can array his waist in a red necktie, put a silk hat on his head and a pair of pearl-gray spats around his wrists is entirely satisfied with life.

The admiration of his fellows means much to him; his admiration of himself means more. Silk hat and red necktie and all, he will crawl on his stomach to a white man for some trifling favor. That shows that he has no SELF-RESPECT, which is a product of civilization. But he does have a prodigious SELF-ESTEEM, and it is to be regretted that many, many generations of progress have not removed that quality from the race which has been climbing upward, while the Africans have remained where they were.

Any man or woman who is given to self-admiration may be sure that nobody else will share that sentiment. It is necessary to have self-respect; it is foolish and injurious to have self-esteem.

We are told that many men of genius were intensely vain—some of them vain of their personal appearance; some of them vain of their achievements. But men of genius are no less subject to weakness than other men, and their vanity has only detracted from their reputations.

Because the Duke of Marlborough posed about his sovereign's court, seeking to win the affections of impressionable women, he is a far less attractive figure than many another English commander of the same ability but no vanity.

Napoleon's fondness for posing could not rob him of his greatness as a soldier, but it certainly did not add to his fame.

Whistler, the great American painter, who was one of the vainest of men, would have been every bit as great a painter had he not had such a tremendous opinion of himself and such a vast contempt for other painters of his time.

Chiefly because most of the writing that goes to make up literature has been done by men, women, from the earliest times, have been pictured as possessing most of the vanity in the world.

How false that idea is you can easily observe by studying any crowd that passes any street corner in city, town or country village.

Having more natural attractiveness to enhance by decoration, women naturally are more particular about their clothes than men, but they follow fashions no more slavishly, take no more thought of the impression they are making on others, and are not a whit more self-conscious than the "lords of creation" who sneer at their vanity.

Ask a barber about men, and he will tell you that they are as insistent on every little detail of their toilets as they well can be—particular about having their hair cut a certain way, pathetically solicitous about the growing bald spots that threaten soon to make the tops of their heads look barren and foolish, and eager to have their mustaches trimmed or curled so as to appear to the best possible advantage.

The manicure girls, who have grown in numbers to the size of an army in every great city, have never a lack for men customers. The sale of red waistcoats and elaborately patterned shirts and neckties is increasing every day.

A hundred years ago men dressed in silk knickerbockers and wore huge powdered wigs. That style of dress was abandoned, not because of any lack of vanity in the male creature, but because, with the multiplicity of duties, it became impossible to keep the male frills and furbelows immaculate.

Look at the parade of plainly and attractively dressed stenographers and shop girls going to and from work on a city street. Turn from them to a dress parade at an army post or on board a battleship, where gold lace and brass buttons form the chief feature of the display. Then judge for yourself if vanity is wholly a feminine quality, or whether the women are not considerably less vain than the members of the more "rugged" sex.

The danger of allowing vanity to remain a dominant trait in human nature is in the fact that it concentrates its possessor's attention upon himself and leads him to forget that there are other things in the world of equal importance.

The man or woman who gets the most out of life must study other people, learning as much as possible about human nature through his or her observations.

When you are lost in admiring yourself and deeply concerned about the impression you are making on others, you rob yourself of any opportunity to study them.

A United States Senator, far more important in his own eyes than in the eyes of any one else, met a friend one day on Pennsylvania avenue, in Washington.

"Hello, Senator," said the friend. "What's the news to-day?"

"I am feeling quite well, thank you," replied the Senator, who could not conceive of any news so important as that which concerned his own well being.

Such a man would be of precious little use to his constituents; and one trouble with the Senate to-day is that it has too many members of just that kind—men vain to the point of idleness, and willing to do anything to obtain flattery or favors from the real rulers of the country.

To overcome the odds against him to-day the young man who hopes to be anything but a less-than-average citizen will have no time for self-adulation, and he will have to blunt his appetite for flattery till it ceases to trouble him.

More than one man exalted by a partial success has sat back to look at and admire himself, while others have gone up and past him. The pompous village "leading citizen," or the "prominent man" of a city, who is eaten up with vanity, is the most tiresome and useless of all members of society.

You can doubtless think of a dozen such men whom you know personally or by sight. Any one of them would bore you to death talking of his own exploits if you listened to him with flattering attention. None of them is entitled to his own esteem, to say nothing of that of his fellow-citizens.

It is common for men grown rich because of some lucky accident to advise young men to follow in their illustrious footsteps, copy their habits and mode of living, and thereby gain the same kind of success. Such advice is always insulting. Only EARNED success is worthy of emulation, and men who have earned success are usually chary of telling other people to try to earn it at the same risk of time and energy.

Self-respect any man must have, unless he is content to be a sponge upon other men. Self-confidence is necessary, too; but, as has been said, confidence is a plant of slow growth, and only comes by hard work.

But self-esteem is a trait we hold in common with the earliest civilized man, with the lowest savage and the commonest brute. Until we civilize it out of our natures we shall have little right to call ourselves a superior race.

Science intimates that the beautiful star of peace which heralded the Nativity was really a furious firmamental paroxysm.

hot at heart—hurtling through darkness 400 miles a second—crashing together in a mighty, convulsive shock!

That the soot starlight which guided the wise men on their tinkling camels was really a raging cataclysm, the stupendous electrical storm of exploding suns!

Another point. Light travels 186,000 miles a second, and from distant Pisces the rays of the Star of Bethlehem required about 200 years to arrive at our earth.

So this explosion which astonished astrologers and roused the Chaldean seers may have occurred long before Herod's father was born—

Don't Drink Adulterated, Blended, Compound or Imitation Whiskies When You Can Get "Minute Man," a Pure, Straight, 4-Year-Old Whiskey for the Same Price. Be careful, don't drink adulterated or impure liquors if you can help it—and you can help it. The United States Government is to-day protecting you and safeguarding your health by its pure food laws. Our Government of Washington has passed a law compelling sellers of all kinds of liquors to state upon the package just what they are selling. If labels on whiskey are marked blended or compound the contents are not pure, straight whiskey. WATCH THE LABELS ON ALL WHISKIES. They must tell the truth or be PROSECUTED by the Government. STRAIGHT WHISKEY, like Minute Man Whiskey, is whiskey that is over four years old and has not been adulterated or interfered with in any way after leaving the still. All others are compounds, imitations or blends.

THE Church Bells are ringing.
The Village is Gay,
For Lilla is going to be Married to-day:
She's Wood and she's Woe
By the Bold Baron's Son
And now our Lilla's a Lady —Old English Ballad.

So naïvely have sung the simple British ballad-ers for several hundred years, rejoicing over the merry village maiden's conquest of a member of the aristocracy. The song does not, however, say anything of the emotions of the Baron's family upon the arrival of the presumably untutored bride among them. Neither does it say that Miss Lilla had much wealth, although it does speak highly of her beauty and virtue.

But when the ideal village grew into the size of the United States and the Baron's family was represented by all Europe, and Lilla, not only of beauty, but of immense wealth, began to swarm over the Continent, marrying a duke here and an earl there, the problem became quite an important one to the aristocratic manumans and papas of the "Bold Barons' Sons." The American girls have such rough edges, due to the freedom and independence given them by American customs, said the Europeans; so many marriages turned out unhappily because they could not understand certain manners and customs, which shocked them in very bourgeois fashion, they were not at all in harmony with their husbands' parents and friends, and they could not begin to be in harmony with certain portions of the European social code. Therefore there has been much scandal and unhappiness. To fill the need, to polish off these rough corners, to teach them not to be shocked at European ways, to do without the typical American freedom and to make the richest heiresses of the United States worthy of marrying men of foreign title, a few exclusive schools have very recently been started abroad.

DRESSIES closing at the side front have proved popular for young girls as well as for their elder sisters. The model here shown with its long lines and pretty shapely, closes at the side front. It may be made of cashmere, galates, panama, serge or velvet.

The sleeve is a one-seam model. The front may be cut in simple outline, without the chemise. The pattern is cut in five sizes—8, 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. It requires 3 1/4 yards of 36-inch material for the 8-year size.

NO. 8626.

At this time of the year mothers and friends of children are busy making clothes for dummies. The design submitted shows the popular "middy" blouse, a jaunty cap and a stylish military cape. All of these models are simple and easy to make, so that even "little mothers" could attempt to develop them.

The pattern is cut in three sizes—for dolls 18, 20 and 22 inches in height. It requires 1/4 of a yard for the cap, 1 1/4 yards for the suit and 1/4 of a yard for the cape of 27-inch material.

To obtain these two patterns, fill in the accompanying coupon and mail with ten cents in silver or stamps, to Post Office Box 200, New York City.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Send no cents for our SATURDAY FASHION CATALOGUE, with FALL AND WINTER SUPPLEMENT for 1909-1910.

The National Magazine of Motor Boating

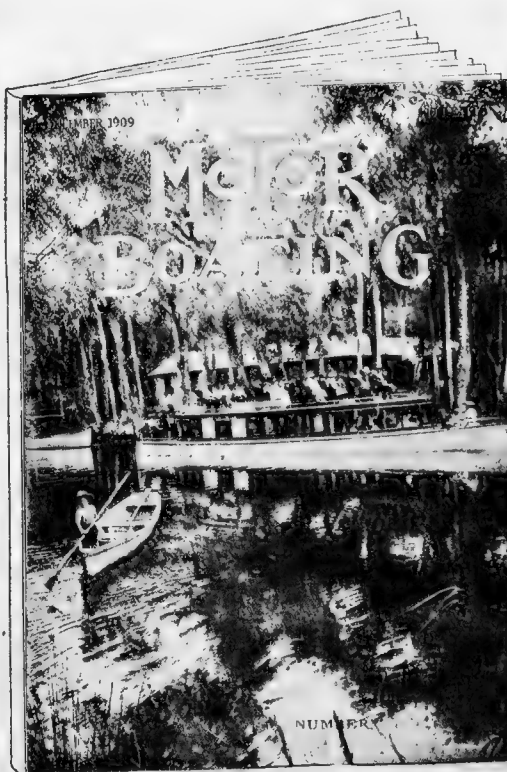

Q Do you know MoToR BOATING?

Q If not, you do not know the one comprehensive, indispensable publication for all alert and progressive motor boatmen—and one of the most beautiful of all magazines published.

of MoToR BOATING is an education in motor boating and a feast for the eye. MoToR BOATING combines superb illustrations, striking covers (one of which is reproduced on this page), fine paper, and artistic typography—all, in fact, that go to make the highest class de luxe magazine—these are combined with a broad, practical, newsy, thoroughly representative survey of the whole motor boat world. MoToR BOATING aims to be—and is—equally valuable to both amateur and professional—to the owner of the most inexpensive motor boat, as well as to the largest manufacturer, agency, or dealer.

contains not only copiously and beautifully illustrated cruising articles, contributions on navigation, timely hints and "hows," sprightly transcripts of experience, motor boating news, the humor of the subject, etc., but also full accounts of all the important events both here and abroad—as well as everything of a more technical nature that can possibly interest the man who runs a motor boat, or ever expects to.

to MoToR BOATING (which costs only $1) is a guarantee of twelve delightful, informing and entertaining visits by this popular nautical magazine. Its helpful pages hold real $3.00 value. Every query confronting the motor boatman is answered clearly and succinctly. Month after month you will read it with ever-increasing satisfaction.

The National Magazine of Motor Boating

many special features and departments are: "Motor Boat Navigation," "New Things for Motor Boatmen," "Business Motor Boats," "New Motor Boat Designs," "Letters from MoToR BOATING Readers," "New Motor Boat Owners," "Among the Clubs," "Yard and Shop," etc., etc. Descriptions of models, parts, attachments and accessories—you read them all in MoToR BOATING, at an immense saving of time, trouble and expense.

of MoToR BOATING are just as important to the reader—particularly to the prospective buyer—as its text pages. And who, veteran enthusiast or novice, is not a prospective buyer? These interesting pages contain the "cream" of the announcements of all the standard manufacturers of motor boats, parts, accessories, etc. MoToR BOATING's large page (size 10x14 inches) and the fine quality of paper used throughout, permit unusually striking effects in both the editorial and advertising sections.

—Goldie's celebrated masterpiece, "From Novice to Pilot," including the ONE complete, practical and authentic treatise on "How to Run a Motor Boat." This justly famous volume is given FREE to all who subscribe now—to-day—to the splendid nautical magazine, MoToR BOATING, the National Magazine of Motor Boating.

Merely fill in your name on the blank below, tear off the coupon and enclose a dollar bill. You will at once receive Goldie's famous masterpiece and also a full year's subscription to MoToR Boating, the superb National Magazine of Motor Boating. This is a special limited-time offer, and you must act at once.
